Profile

Called to the Bar at Gray's Inn in 1978, HH Alan Booth was appointed Assistant Recorder in 1996, Recorder in 2000 and Circuit Judge in 2009. He was authorised to sit as a High Court Judge in 2009. Throughout his career, financial remedy work has been his specialist area of expertise.

Now retired from the Bench, he is offering Private FDRs to parties seeking a constructive, efficient and confidential route to settlement. His considerable experience of evaluating complex cases and assisting parties towards resolution enables him to provide clear, realistic and authoritative indications designed to maximise the prospects of agreement.

As an accredited mediator, he also brings additional settlement skills and a strong understanding of the dynamics involved in achieving negotiated outcomes.

A Private FDR with HH Alan Booth offers:

Judicial insight from a former Circuit Judge and authorised High Court Judge;

Extensive experience in complex and high value financial remedy disputes;

A focused and settlement driven approach;

Greater flexibility, privacy and efficiency than the court process
